J's La Quill

J's La Quill - Museum of Handwriting, Lettering, Calligraphy, Fountain Pens & Writing Instruments, the only one of its kind in the world, which houses a world class handwriting & calligraphy training centre with a unique ambience of visual, auditory & olfactory appeal, with a rare collection of quills, nibs, fountain pens, inks, inkwells, books and files of students handwriting before and after his courses, a calligraphy studio, a publishing house, an upcoming gallery and a gift shop.

Founded by the Maestro K.C. Janardhan, who is the first Indian to teach "Power Handwriting to the British and The Rest of The World". Incidentally he is the only Indian to be allowed to write his own passport. He is a master lettering expert and calligrapher of International repute who has calligraphed over 80,000 certificates, citations, invitations, special letters, poetry etc., for over 180 clients across the globe. Co-author of the first ever book on Handwriting in the Asia Pacific Region.

Inaugurated by His excellency Lorenzo Angeloni - the Italian Ambassador and admired by British Diplomats, British Parliamentarians and corporates like Rolls Royce after their experience at the museum.
